RE: 2022 Spring Semester Operational plans for Michigan State University (MSU)

DATE: December 31, 2021

To Whom It May Concern

This is to confirm that MSU will be offering both in-person and online instruction for Spring Semester 2022. MSU's operational plan is considered to be Hybrid.

Per President Stanley, MSU classes will be taught remotely beginning January 10, 2022, and for at least the first three weeks of the semester. Some lab courses and professional school programs may meet in-person.

Students who were planning to move back to residence halls may do so as planned. The residence halls will be open and available for move-in. Food and dining options will be available in dining halls.

For the 2022 Spring Semester, MSU's COVID-19 vaccine and face covering mandates will continue. All new and transfer students must completely and accurately fill out the vaccine verification form by January 4, 2022.

OISS will assist all F-1 and J-1 international students in meeting enrollment requirements and complying with Student and Exchange Visitor Program (SEVP) and Department of Homeland Security reporting requirements. MSU requests your assistance in issuing emergency visa appointments for students and scholars so they can join their on-campus academic programs.

Please direct questions to OISS.
